

All Us All the Time Publishing

9275 S Fox Fire Drive

Highlands Ranch, CO 80129

303.997.4207

New Children's Picture Book Bursts with Imagination and Color

For immediate release, Denver, CO, October 2007 –

Published Northern Colorado artist/illustrator Pamela McCarville celebrates her love of fantasy and magic in a new children's picture book she illustrated, written by Icats Nitram.

Willow May Goes to the Midnight Carnival is about a little girl who goes to the Midnight Carnival where she encounters unique and engaging creatures. The vivid illustrations throughout the book enhance the journey into an enchanting, yet mysterious world of fantasy. Willow May Goes to the Midnight Carnival published by

AUATT Publishing in October 2007 is available at BarnesandNoble.com, Amazon.com, and AllUsAlltheTime.com. In addition this title is being distributed by Partners/West and starting in January 2008, it will also be distributed through Baker & Taylor and Quality Book Inc..

Willow May Goes to the Midnight Carnival is about mystery, magic, and fun.

Willow May stirs the imagination as you join her on a peculiar journey through an outlandish carnival like no other.

There will be clowns, there will be music, there will be acrobats and there will be werewolves.

Werewolves?!? Oh yes, werewolves!

There will be many more surprises in the mysterious tents of the Midnight Carnival.

Come join the journey, come join the fun.

- Willow May Goes to the Midnight Carnival
- Author: Icats Nitram
- Illustrator/Book Designer: Pamela McCarville
- Publisher: AUATT Publishing
- ISBN-13: 978-0979728501
- Price: $16.95
- Contact: Staci Leavitt, 303-997-4207, auattpub@comcast.net